Russians Propose Immediate Trial for Rudolph Hess

London Startled Today by Demand Prisoner Be Tried at Once

Moscow, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The Russian government, contributing Premier Stalin's view on punishment of axis war leaders, proposed today that a special tribunal undertake at once to punish "any one of the leaders of fascist Germany who, in the course of the war, has fallen into the hands of states fighting against Hitlerite Germany".

While Rudolf Hess was not mentioned specifically in this passage of the Russian announcement, he seemed to be the most important if not the only captive axis adherent falling in the category of prisoners against whom immediate action was sought by Russia.

Hess, former deputy fuhrer, has been a British prisoner since May 10, 1941, when he parachuted to earth in Scotland, bearing what both Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill later said was an overture to Britain to make peace with Germany and join the reich in war on Russia.

London Startled

(The Russian proposal startled London. A British foreign office commentator said that "Hess, of course, is regarded as one" of the nazi leaders who might be affected by the British government's own earlier declaration proposing a tribunal to indict war criminals.

(He emphasized, however, that "Hess became our prisoner on May 10, 1941" and "of course while there were plenty of crimes" to be charged against the nazi leaders prior to that date the atrocities affecting the Russian people and the majority of those against other European peoples occurred later.

(Although he said that the Russian statement seemed "to show complete agreement with the objectives" of allied announcements of intention to punish axis leaders, the commentator declined to discuss specifically what view Britain might take of the suggestion that high axis prisoners be tried before the war's end.)

Search for Convicts Spreads to Indiana

Chicago, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Search for Roger Touhy and members of his prison-breaking gang centered in northern Indiana today as a former Cook county assistant attorney told of being freed at the point of a gun to give two of the desperadoes to Hammond, Ind.

The victim, Charles P. Kal, told police he was driving on Chicago's southwest highway last night when a man and another person dressed in woman's clothing hailed him for a ride.

The man forced him at the point of a gun to drive to a point east of Gary, where he alighted. The other hitch-hiker pressed a metal object against Kal's neck, added, and ordered him to drive toward Hammond. He got to near the city, ordering Kal to get out or be shot.

Reporting to the Hammond police, Kal identified pictures of Arthur Nelson, 40, and Edward Arlak, 32, two of the prison breakers as the hitch hikers. Touhy and six others broke out of the Stateville prison last Friday.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Adolf Hitler obviously is turning his keen, perhaps anxious, attention to his southern front. Stymied at Stalingrad and finding little reason for comfort elsewhere along his eastern battlelines, he patiently feels impelled now to give increasing thought to Africa and southern areas nearer home, Italy, for instance, and the Balkans.

The movements of his subordinates, the switching of his U-boat packs to new hunting grounds and a growing volume of searching speculation from his propaganda machine all indicate the nazi expectation that the war is approaching a new phase, the African phase. This shift of emphasis differs significantly from similar changes in the past. There is a new note in Berlin's propaganda. This time, for the first time, the new battlefield is not of Hitler's choosing. He appears to be uncertain as to exactly where it is to be. The Berlin radio, throwing out a multitude of reports on allied dispositions, seems to be either fishing for information or trying to impress the United Nations with the thoroughness of the German information services. But the general tenor is conviction that a blow is coming, and that the initiative will not be Germany's.

Marshal Rommel, having received marked honors at the hands of the fuhrer himself in Berlin, has returned to the command of his African armies. Himmler of the Gestapo, that grim specialist in the morale of the home front, of occupied territories, and allied states—if there is a difference there—has gone to Rome. New generals have been sent to the

Largest Tire Sale in History Now On; Only One Purchaser, Uncle Sam

Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The largest tire sale in the nation's history was under way today with only one buyer—Uncle Sam.

The sellers, motorists everywhere with more than five tires, were numbered in the thousands as the government called for every "excess" tire in an effort to keep America rolling.

Uncle Sam was ready to spend $150,000,000, the amount advanced by the Defense Supplies Corporation which designated 160 warehouses throughout the country as delivery points.

All a prospective seller has to do, the Office of Price Administration explained last night, is to ask the nearest office of the Railway Express Agency to send a truck to pick up his tires. The owner will receive a check, or

Reds Repel Attacks Around Stalingrad; Maintain Stalemate

Nazis Spend 52nd Day of Siege of City by Burying Comrades

By The Associated Press

Soviet headquarters reported today that the Red armies had beaten off five German counterattacks along the 40-mile barrier northwest of Stalingrad, while inside the Volga metropolis the defenders fought back small-scale forays by nazi tanks and riflemen.

It was the 52nd day of siege. German field headquarters, citing actual operations inside the city for the first time in five days, claimed new gains and asserted that nazi bombers and Stuka dive bombers were smashing Russian pillboxes and artillery emplacements.

Soviet dispatches said the gigantic struggle had waned to an almost static situation and reported that German burial parties were busy clearing the battlefield on the approaches to a northwest suburb—site of the great Stalin tank works—where the nazi assault failed to crack the backbone of Russian defense.

Tanks Repulsed

In its mid-day communique, the soviet command reported that Russian troops repulsed several tank-led attacks on Stalingrad's lines overnight and wiped out

First Lee County Rent Case Is Given Jury Hearing Today

Palmyra Farmer Brings Forcible Detainer Action Against Tenant

The first case to be taken into a Lee county court in which a rent administration ruling is involved, was tried before a jury in Justice J. O. Shaulis court today. Richard H. Belcher, Palmyra township farmer, instituted a forcible detainer action against his tenant, Lloyd Oellig, to secure possession of a property located at 1303 First street. Attorney Mark Keller appeared for the owner while Oellig was represented by Attorney Robert L. Bracken. The testimony before the jury indicated that Oellig had been a tenant in Belcher's property for more than three years, and the latter sought to increase the monthly rental from $25 to $30 per month. The tenant refused to pay the increased amount, after both Oellig and Belcher had conferred with Mayor William Slothower.

Verdict for Tenant

Belcher then sought to have Oellig vacate, stating that he wanted the property for his own use by Oct. 1. Oellig consented to vacate in the event that he could find another house in which to move his family, but according to his testimony, he has not been able to do so. During the trial of the case, it was stated that Oellig was renting a portion of the house. The jury held that Belcher was not entitled to his property.

Several other similar cases are pending at present, it was reported today, and in his testimony in the case today, Mayor Slothower told the jury that in many instances where landlords have sought to collect increased rentals after March 1st, the date on which defense area classification became effective, they have sought to eject tenants by stating that they desired the properties for their own personal use.

TO CONTROL HOTELS, ETC.

Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The house today passed by an oral vote and sent to the senate a new anti-inflation measure directing the president to stabilize rentals throughout the nation on both residential and commercial property and to regulate charges by hotels and rooming houses.

The measure would authorize Roosevelt to freeze rentals and rates at what he considered fair levels in all states, the District of Columbia and the territories and possessions.

The house banking committee approved the bill unanimously yesterday after hearing Economic Director James F. Byrnes testify that charges for the use of real property in some cases had jumped as much as 200 per cent.

The committee struck out a provision that rentals be stabilized as near as practicable at Sept. 15, 1942 levels, thus apparently opening the way for the president to fix any levels he deemed fair.

Stipulations for the regulation of hotel and rooming house charges were written in after one committee member said a congressman had been harded a $15 bill for a night's sleep in a Washington hotel.

"Sleeping comes high," remarked Byrnes. "I am astounded to hear that."

The congressman, Rep. Lynch (D-N.Y.), shied away at naming the hotel for fear he might be charged $25 the next time he is unable to find lodging elsewhere.

Courageous

Brighton, England, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Henry Coates of London is alive today thanks to the courage of a surgeon who removed a live German Messerschmitt cannon shell from his thigh—a dangerous operation almost without parallel in medical history.

Coates was wounded recently when a German plane bombed and machine-gunned the building in which he was working.

Surgeons, knowing that shells of the type which penetrated Coates' leg frequently explode at the slightest touch, were faced with a rare dilemma. Finally they called in a bomb disposal squad, which suggested that with extreme care the shell might be removed.

Disregarding the danger to himself, Dr. Donald Hall, chairman of the Royal Sussex county hospital, undertook to perform the delicate operation. Assistants and nurses quickly volunteered to help and the operation was carried through without mishap.

Conferees Headed Toward Agreement on Huge Tax Bill

Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—A joint congressional committee today appeared heading toward an agreement on a new and untried system of taxation designed to raise $1,750,000,000 a year, part of which would be only "borrowed" from the taxpayers and returned to them after the war.

Although he said house members had not disclosed their attitude, Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the senate finance committee expressed confidence that post-war rebates for both individuals and corporations would remain an integral part of the new revenue bill when it is presented for final action.

The joint group planned to wade through a mass of non-controversial amendments before getting down to the chief disputed issues—the 5 per cent Victory tax on individual earnings above $624 yearly and senate changes in house-approved corporation rates.

To Cushion Blow

Both of these proposals involved post-war rebates, as well as current deductions for payments on debts.

These provisions were inserted by the senate primarily to cushion the blow of stiff new tax rates which will have the effect of making individuals pay 24 cents—19 normal and surtax plus 5 Victory tax—on the first taxable dollar of their net income and will levy 90 per cent against corporation excess profits.

The senate attached the post-war credit to the Victory tax under which single persons could claim credit for 24 per cent of the Victory tax they paid, with a limit of $500, and married persons could claim 40 per cent, plus 2 per cent for each dependent, up to $1,000.

Deferred Physicians Are Facing Induction

Chicago, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Deferred physicians without dependents or physical disqualifications face induction, Paul G. Armstrong announced yesterday.

The state selective service director said a shortage of doctors in the army demands that such physicians apply for reserve commissions in the armed forces or face induction as privates.

Armstrong warned that doctors inducted as privates might have to wait three months or longer before they could be given commissions.

Col. Harris P. Ralston, state selective service executive officer, reported that it was probable drafting of married men with dependent wives would not begin in Illinois in November. He said all October draft calls would be filled without taking class 3-A men with collateral dependents.

7 Die in S. Carolina Army Bomber Crash

Chester, S. C., Oct. 15.—(AP)—Seven men lost their lives in the crash of an army bomber in a field near Richburg, midway between Chester and Lancaster, last night, public relations officials at the Greenville, S. C., army air base, where the bomber was based, announced today.

High School Youths May Be in Service By Christmas Time

Congress' Committees Rushing Hearings on Army's Proposals

Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—One million one hundred thousand and more men will have to be drafted by Jan. 1, Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey testified today in support of legislation to draft 18 and 19-year-olds.

Most of these 1,100,000, he told the house military committee will come from the group of men having secondary dependents, such as parents, and those having a wife only. The rest would be men with no dependents.

Hershey estimated that dropping the minimum draft age from 20 to 18 would make available 1,500,000 "of what is the best of our manpower".

He explained to the committee that after Jan. 1 selective service must look for its manpower needs to the teen-age group, to men employed in agriculture and essential industry, and to the group having dependents.

Explaining the rapid increase in the induction rate, General Hershey said that during the first six months of this year inductions were at the rate of about 200,000 monthly, increased to more than 300,000 monthly during the third quarter, and approximately 450,000 in November and December.

Hearings More Rapidly

The rapid pace of hearings, by both the house and senate military committees, indicated they might be finished tonight. Continuance of such a gait could mean that high school students might be in the Army by Christmas.

Even if the draft age is lowered quickly, Hershey explained, this hardly would affect the draft of married men before December, since November quotas already have been made and are being filled by local boards.

Beginning with the December quotas, he said, "the great ma-

Jacket Identifies Hit-Run Autoists

A brown jacket found in a cabin near the Pines state park, identified as belonging to William Wickey of this city and taken from his car, which was stolen from East First street early in the evening of Oct. 2, was reported to have been the means of identifying two men who stole the car. It also served, Chief of Police Van Bibber stated, in identifying the men who, while speeding on North Galena avenue in the stolen machine, struck Albert Kastner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kastner, 249 Graham street, knocking him from his bicycle.

Arthur Wakenight, 27, of Grand Detour, and John S. Kovack, 24, of Chicago, both held in the Ogilvie county jail at Oregon, were named in warrants issued today for the theft of the Wickey car. Chief Van Bibber secured the warrants today which were forwarded to Sheriff Jim White at Oregon.

Wakenight and Kovack were arrested Monday night as they emerged from corn fields near Polo in which they took refuge after being caught by Harold Stouffer, in a reported attempt to take his car from the business section of Polo. Chief Van Bibber went to Oregon last evening and conferred with Sheriff White. In looking over the articles found in the cabin which the two men had occupied, the Dixon man's jacket was found. The coat was taken from the car which, the day after its being stolen, was found abandoned on a side road north of the Nachusa Orphanage corners.

German News Agency Reports Series of British Commando Raids Recently

Berlin (From German Broadcasts) Oct. 15.—(AP)—DNE reported today a series of British Commando raids along the coast of France last month and said "it can be deduced that the British command intends to give way to the soviet demand for a second front and to make Normandy the scene of such an attack."

"In early September, Commando raids on a larger scale were carried out by the British," it said, adding that they were in preparation for "a British landing on the coast of Normandy."

Revolt in Croatia Multiplies Nazis' Balkan Troubles

Balkan Troubles

Bern Switzerland, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The nazi-created state of Croatia was reported torn by civil strife today, with followers of the powerful peasant leader, Dr. Vladimir Macek, in open revolt against the puppet government of Dr. Ante Pavelic.

Yugoslav sources, who would not permit their names to be used, said an army of about 4,000 well-organized peasants was battling Pavelic's brown-shirted Ustachi—the militia which he organized in emulation of Premier Mussolini's Blackshirts.

The revolt added to the complications facing the axis armies of occupation in Yugoslavia, already engaged in bitter strife with the partisan forces of General Dr. Mihailovic, who has been waging guerrilla warfare from the fastnesses of the Yugoslav mountains.

Mihailovic was said to be constantly reinforcing his army, and the effectiveness of his campaign was demonstrated by official Italian figures reporting that 4,389 Italian soldiers had been killed and 4,499 wounded in the Balkans in the last 10 months.

Germany May Act

(Advices from Ankara, Turkey, said reports were current there that the Germans might take over control of Croatia and Slovenia because of dissatisfaction with Italy's failure to cope with continued anti-axis outbreaks. These reports said Germany might also demand full control of the Adriatic port of Trieste, which Italy got from Austria at the end of the first world war.)

Communications in Yugoslavia were reported in a turmoil as a result of repeated attacks by insurgents upon railway trains. Yugoslav quarters said 46 trains had been derailed in Croatia alone in September and declared that nazi troops were compelled to guard the whole length of the Zagreb-Belgrade railway.

These quarters expressed belief the Croat revolt had been stirred up by the arrest of Macek and five other leaders of the Croatian peasant party for their refusal to cooperate with the axis.

Japanese Bring Up Heavy Naval Force to Retake Solomons

"Substantial" American Army Ground and Air Forces Aid Marines

Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The Navy announced today that the Japanese have brought up heavy naval units in their apparently all-out effort to drive Army and Marine forces out of the Solomon islands despite considerable enemy losses in the last four days.

The enemy's losses in the fight and its preliminary stages, covering a four-day period, were reported by the Navy in a communique as being seven ships, including a battleship, damaged and 33 planes shot down, destroyed on the ground or damaged both in actions over Guadalcanal and as a result of American attacks on Japanese bases.

Damage to American forces and installations was disclosed to include that done by an unexpected enemy bomber raid on the airfield at Guadalcanal and also the loss of two fighter planes.

Secretary of War Stimson disclosed today that substantial American Army ground and air forces had arrived on Guadalcanal to help the Marines defend the Solomon islands key point against newly-developing Japanese attacks.

The damage done to the Guadalcanal airfield, which had previously been bombed by Japanese warships, was not disclosed nor was there any exact explanation as to why American fighters in that one instance had failed to take the air to repel the attack.

Aid Landed Oct. 13

A communique, following up last night's announcement that the enemy troops on the strategic island had been heavily reinforced, said that United States reinforcements had been landed on October 13. Guadalcanal time, and that although the ships which took them in were attacked by enemy bombers they suffered no damage and unloading operations were accomplished successfully.

The Japanese reinforcements were made in the early morning of Oct. 15, which was yesterday by Guadalcanal time, and the transport force, today's communique noted, was covered not only by destroyers and cruisers, but also by a battleship.

An American aircraft striking group attacked the enemy ships and the communique said reports indicated that three direct hits were made on one transport while two other transports were set afire and were burning when last observed.

The Japanese battleship was damaged in this same United States attack and one enemy fighter plane was shot down.

Enemy Not Deterred

Such resistance, however, apparently did not deter the enemy in the least and the communique, dated October 15, reported that "other enemy forces including heavy units have been sighted in the vicinity of Guadalcanal."

The communique added, as Stimson had reported at his press conference earlier today, that United States Army troops were now fighting shoulder to shoulder with the Marine forces in defense of the American positions on Guadalcanal—positions which mark the forward limits of the first United States land offensive undertaken in the Pacific.

In reviewing developments leading up to what the Navy called "the current battle in the Guadalcanal area," the communique reported that on the morning of October 12 Army Flying Fortresses bombed the airfield and shore establishments on the island of Buika, 375 miles northwest of Guadalcanal. Fires were started and ten enemy bombers and fighters were either wrecked or damaged on the ground.

Army bombers also struck at the enemy base at Buin on the island of Bougainville, about 270 miles northwest of Guadalcanal, and set fire to one cargo ship and damaged another. Six enemy fighters were shot down.

On New Georgia Island

Another attack carried out that day, which the Navy had previously reported as having been highly successful in damaging and sinking enemy ships, was made on a Japanese ship concentration in the vicinity of New Georgia island.

The two bases and the concentration area at New Georgia island are places at which the Japanese undoubtedly were collecting forces for their big drive south.

On October 13, the communique reported, the enemy struck twice by air at the American field on

200,000 Tons of Scrap Expected to Be Shipped by Illinois in October

Illinois scrap dealers shipped 111,326 tons to steel mills in August, 121,872 tons in September, and will move more than 200,000 tons in October at their present rate, George M. Eisenberg and Walter V. McAdoo, Jr., co-chairmen of the salvage committee, Illinois State Council of Defense, reported to Gov. Dwight H. Green today.

Illinois' total of more than 230,000 tons of scrap sent to the mills means that the industry's daily requirements are being met and an inventory is being built up, Eisenberg said.

"Junk dealers have done a marvelous job of getting the scrap on its way to production," Eisenberg said. "They will do even more, if they can obtain more manpower and better transportation facilities."

Scrap dealers in the state handled more scrap in the first half of 1942 than ever before in their history, Eisenberg said.

Dealers have pledged themselves to go all-out to salvage the "mountains of scrap" which remain in all parts of the state, Eisenberg said. A number of county chairmen who upped their quotas from 1,500 to 6,000, and then filled them, are confident they can duplicate that tonnage in another drive, he said.

Well-meaning persons who complain that dealers are not moving their scrap fail to realize the immensity of the job, he said, because dealers are handicapped by shortage of help.

Eisenberg and McAdoo, on behalf of Gov. Green, presented a certificate of merit to the Central Illinois Scrap Dealers' Association.

Willkie Sees FDR; Reiterates Second Front Suggestion

Plans Reports on His Epochal Circuit of World in 50 Days

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie stepped out of the role of personal representative of the president and back into that of private citizen today after ending an epochal circuit of the world and appealing anew for a second front.

From the White House itself, where he reported to President Roosevelt late yesterday on a 31,000-mile tour that took him to fighting fronts in the Middle East, Russia and China, Willkie urged that a second front be established. He had made the same appeal in Moscow.

Yet he told reporters: "In my judgment, Germany will never conquer Russia."

Willkie said he had his own opinion where a second front should be opened, but he was unwilling to name the spot. He based his decision that there should be one, he asserted, on talks with "military men all over the world."

Willkie asserted:

Today's Menu

"Sure, we're going to win this war. We have the power and the resources on our side."

Concerned Over Cost

But he said he was concerned over the cost in human lives and human values and over winning the peace as well as the war.

Willkie, the Republican presidential nominee in 1940, toured 14 countries in 50 days accomplishing "certain things" for the man who beat him at the polls.

In a formal statement, he said he had two other purposes:

1. To "demonstrate to our allies and to a good many neutral countries that there is unity in the United States on the purpose of winning this war."

2. To find out all he could about the war and how it could be won—"won quickly so that we can get back to our jobs again, and won securely so that the peace which follows it will hold."

He said he had learned at first hand that "a lot of us, including public officials, are going to have to stretch our muscles and our minds before we win."

FDR Denies Criticism

"Before I go back to work—which will be at my old job," he asserted, "I am going to do what I can by an honest piece of reporting to my fellow-citizens to help in this new job which we all face of reeducating ourselves to win this war and to win the peace."

A four-motored B-24 Army plane, which flew the paint off her nose, took Willkie around the world. But he returned to New York City, his starting point, by train early today.

The Republican chieftain planned to rest a few days at his home in Indiana before buckling down to work on further reports to the people.

In the course of his hour-and-a-half conference with Roosevelt, Willkie said the president had volunteered word that any report that the chief executive had criticized him while he was abroad was entirely erroneous.

Big Sum for Navy Provided in Bill

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—A bill that would boost the fiscal year's outlay for the Navy to $30,827,000,000 in cash and contractual authority went before the senate today with the unanimous approval of its appropriations committee.

The measure, carrying $2,862,000,000 for the construction of 14,611 additional Navy planes, was expected to win speedy approval. Included in it was an authorization for the Navy to begin letting contracts on 500,000 tons of new aircraft carriers, 500,000 tons of cruisers, 900,000 tons of destroyers and escort vessels and 200,000 tons of auxiliary vessels at an over-all cost of $9,500,000,000.

The measure would make $460,954,000 available for pay increases and to finance allowances to the dependents of Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard personnel.

In approving the bill, the senate committee restored to $600,000,000, the level requested by the budget bureau, an appropriation for defense housing. The house had cut this amount to $500,000,000.

It also acted to make available $1,000,000 to the War Manpower Commission for a survey of farm labor conditions, and $1,200,000 for treasury expenses in absentee voting of military personnel.

Senate Filibuster on Poll Tax Seen

Washington, Oct. 14—(AP)—A stormy controversy over outlawing state poll taxes shifted to the senate today amid private predictions that southern senators would filibuster the measure to death.

The bill won house passage yesterday by an overwhelming vote of 252 to 84, after members had defined the issue as one of granting millions of Negroes in the south the privileges of a free ballot box in national elections.

Raised in debate was the board question of state's rights and of congress' power to lay down rules governing state elections.

Before a final vote, Rep. Colmer

(D-Miss) reminded his northern colleagues of the "solid south's" support of the Democratic party, protested their "ingratitude," and cautioned that "in coming years, the chickens may come home to roost."

From Rep. Mitchell (D-Ill), only Negro member of congress, came the assertion that "if the Negro is good enough to shed his blood for this country, then he is good enough to vote in peacetime as well as in wartime."

A Thought for Today

Sing unto the Lord; for He hath done excellent things: this is known in all the earth.—Isaiah 12:5.

And heaven had wanted one immortal song.—Dryden.

Add This to Your Taxes

Summer Welles, acting secretary of state, has given an indication of what the American taxpayers may experience if the world remodelers remain in power after we have won the war. We quote from an Associated Press dispatch:

"The task of postwar relief will be enormous,
he continued, for much of the world will be impoverished beyond anything known in modern times."
"Eventually, however, the devastated areas must be made self-supporting with the aid of enormous shipments from abroad, both of capital goods and of the raw materials of industry, shipments for which no immediate means of payment will be visible."

"That means large financing, much of it long term, he said, requiring cooperative action by the United Nations, until payment can be made both for interest on loans and for current purchases of raw materials and other imports."

"I need not tell this audience," said Mr. Welles,
"that international payments on that scale can be made only in goods and services. There is no other way. . . . Those who expect to export must take the world's goods and services in payment. I hope the United States is ready to act on that lesson."

Statesmen of Europe, following the last war, found it inexpedient to tax their people to pay gold
to the United States in payment of the war debts.
It is now assumed that although statesmen found it politically inadvisable to tax their people to pay a just debt, they still will be able to work them."

In the meantime the American taxpayers will not be permitted to forget the dollar sign. We can tax ourselves to rebuild and make self-sustaining the bombed areas, and then we can throw our own workers out of jobs in order to accept the goods the bombed areas will send us in payment for our loans abroad. This country will have the darndest collection of cuckoo clocks ever seen outside a madhouse.

Industrial Draft

An industrial manpower draft modeled on Canada's appears to be inevitable for the same reason that the military draft originally was adopted by the United States—because not enough men can be obtained for the tremendous job on hand, through voluntary enlistment.

This is not said in belittlement of popular patriotism and willingness. In an absolutely perfect world, perhaps men and women would voluntarily give up agreeable, accustomed work to take more essential but less desirable jobs. In a perfect world, perhaps men and women would be uninterested in the opportunity to add 10, 20 or 30 per cent to their weekly incomes.

But we do not live in a perfect world. Some jobs are more pleasant than others; some jobs pay better; anyway, each of us has become accustomed to his own and isn't eager to change.

To win the war some work is essential, and some doesn't matter. We can do the essential only by keeping all of its employees on the job and taking others from the dispensable occupations. We can't, in this imperfect world, rely upon voluntary action.

The only resort becomes a draft of workers, putting each person where he or she can contribute most.

The reiteration of "he or she" is not pedanticism. It is intended to emphasize that this is not a man's war. It is an American people's war.
There aren't enough men to fight and also to produce. Therefore women—millions and millions of women, many of whom would prefer to stay at home and care for their children—are going to have to go to work in war industries.

The whole idea, from beginning to end, is objectionable. It introduces regimentation of a type and to an extent that no free American citizen ever supposed he would accept. It strikes at the very roots of one of our most precious heritages—the right to work when, where, as and if we choose.

We hate violently the idea of an industrial draft,
but we are going to accept it because we prefer regimentation under democracy, temporarily and voluntarily, to regimentation under Hitler permanently and ruthlessly.

We ask that the industrial draft be planned and executed with all possible consideration for our human frailties, with utter fairness, with every safeguard against the greed of both employers and unions.

The principle we accept. We made our bed when we permitted Hitler to rise to domination. Now we realize that we must lie in it.

Lend-Lease in Reverse

Through the reverse operation of lend-lease, through supplies made available by the British to our expeditionary forces, much valuable shipping space is being saved. This, of course, is of infinitely more import than the bookkeeping entries which somewhat reduce the charges against our allies.

But also, we are getting help here at home.
British planes, excellent for anti-submarine patrol, have released the newer models to go across for combat service. British barrage balloons help to safeguard the Pacific coast, British anti-aircraft guns await the Luftwaffe on the east coast, and British corvettes help to protect coastwise convoys. Lend-lease operates two ways.

Well Said

For a long time now, writing men have been trying to say something that needed to be said clearly and unequivocally. Some have done well, but it remained for a fighting man, Admiral Moreell,
to beat the professional writers at their own game.
To the A. F. of L's building trades department, Morell said:

"Your answer may be, 'They can't live without us.' I will admit that no one can live without labor, but they certainly can live without labor unions.
They are living without them in Germany, and in Italy, and in Japan, and they seem to be doing right well—and, in my opinion, they will damn well live without them here if all of us don't get in there and pitch."

What more need be said?

PLAY BY PLAY

BY PAUL DAVID PRESTON

COPYRIGHT, 1942.
NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Blythe Miller, 19, is a prodigious athlete. She is in love with Duane Hogan, star back of the Lincoln Field cadet football team, which her dad coaches.
But Duane doesn't know it.
Neither does Nancy Hale. Nancy is a young widow of a soldier who has been given work and a place to live at the field after she and her son were rescued by Duane from an auto wreck. And now the grateful, adoring Nancy wants Blythe to help her "make Duane see me, and love me in return!"

FIGHTING STOCK

CHAPTER V

FOR three day after their frightening conversation, Blythe didn't see Nancy Hale. In fact she deliberately avoided Nancy, afraid of what she herself might say or do.

"You look like a string of shad, Blye honey," Pop Miller told her that third day "You don't eat, you don't laugh and talk, and last night at 2 I heard you crying."

That startled Blye. She looked wide-eyed at her father.

"Anh hanh!" said he wisely.
"Will you tell me or won't you?
If it is a worry, oughtn't I to know?"

Good old Pop. Of course he ought to know. Blye stared off at nothing, yearning to tell him as she had told him practically everything else now for 19 years.

But this time—
"Don't be silly!" She forced a smile. "I've just been busy."
"It is a love affair," he adjudged.
"Isn't it, sweetheart?"

Blye nodded.
"I could go tell him what a fool he is if he doesn't love you.
I could make him sit up and—"

"Pop Miller, don't you dare!"
Blye was suddenly alarmed. He just might try so reckless a thing!
Then she saw he was grinning, trying to ease the heart pain. Next moment she was sobbing against his shoulder and hearing him murmur to her as if she were a tiny little girl.

Even so, there was nothing she could tell him. Nothing that she would. This new thing that confronted her was an adult consideration, not a whimsy for laps and petting and tears.

She tried to interest herself in the afternoon football practice.
Duane Hogan himself stood back on the 20-yard line and booted a ball over the distant goal. Pop's tears were famous for punting.
In scrimmage then Duane blasted holes in the heaviest lines the coach could devise against him.

"Dynamite Hogan!" some admiring cadet yelled, after a 12-yard push.

SHE saw him drag one tackler over the practice goal before a knee touched ground. She saw his tanned face beaming after each play. Duane loved football second only to flying. Or to ranching.

But Blythe couldn't watch him any longer, because out of the field house yonder she saw Nancy Hale coming. Blythe had kept her bicycle near at hand. She pretended not to see Nancy, but waved a friendly hello-and-goodbye at the cadets near her and pedaled away.

At dinner she forced herself to eat. Pop nodded, approvingly.
"But it still isn't all right, eh, sweetheart?" he said to her.

"No," Blye agreed. Mother Miller was pot then in the room.
"Goin' out tonight? Dance in the U. S. O. hall?"

"Norman asked me. Norman Dana."

"Mmmmm. . . . But it isn't him, is it?"

"No, Pop." Pop went on eating, avoiding her eyes.

"Pop?" She spoke after a long minute.

"Hm?"

"If you—loved somebody—look,
Pop. Friendship is awfully important, isn't it? . . . I mean, it is!"

"Mmm."

"Pop, am I so terrible-looking?
Ugly?"

Pop stopped chewing, bread in hand. He gazed at her and the frowned. "You are the second prettiest girl God ever created," he swore, "and I will personally choke the man who denies it! Except for your Mom, you—"

"Yes, but—but—am I desirable? Oh, Pop, you know what I mean!"

It wasn't funny and it wasn't meant to be. Pop Miller wiped his mouth, his hands. But as he lectured Blythe he gestured with his bread.

"Honey, there's something you want, and you don't want to tell me. I don't blame you, I'd rather you wouldn't unless you wish.
But I can say this—the Millers come from fighting stock! Do you understand me?" He almost roared that, and she did not answer.

"So did the McLendons, your mama's blood!" he went on, scowling, challenging. "If we want something we get it! What do you see me teach the lads of an afternoon? To sit back and wait for the ball or the runner? What do Hogan and Dana do? They tear ahead! They go! They drive!
They drive fair, but they tackle or they carry, and every coach in the country would give his soul to have my two men! They're go-getter honey!" His tone dropped then, back to tenderness. "Aw, honey girl, if you—"

BLYE was finished eating. She got up, rumbled his hair fringe by way of thank you, and went off to her room. She wanted to be alone now.

For five minutes she stared at nothing, thinking. Then she turned to the mirror on the closet door. The Blythe Miller facing her there—as Pop had assured her—quite as pretty as a girl need be. Blythe allowed herself no false belittlement of that fact.

She thought then of Nancy Hale.
Mrs. Wesley Hale, the chairwoman, No, she couldn't even say it sarcastically. Nancy really was charming. Nancy had no money but she had that finer something of aristocracy or "class." Some people just seem endowed with it; others never have it at all, Blythe reflected.
Do I have it? . . . She turned right and left, rear and front. . . .

What's more, Nancy is unselfish and kind, and has been through so much misery!

Blythe pushed that thought aside instantly. It would never do! Fight for your rights, Pop had said. Fight for what you want. She, Blythe, had done the decent thing toward the attractive widow whom chance had thrown so dramatically onto the Lincoln Field football team. She had helped rescue Nancy and baby Scooter.

She had given Nancy clothes.
She had given—yes, even friendship, when Nancy needed that in its deeper, subtler forms. But now in the name of that friendship, Nancy had asked Blythe for help in winning a man that Blythe herself loved! True, Nancy didn't know about Blythe's feelings. And yet—

"It wouldn't matter!" Blythe whispered, to herself. "I know it wouldn't for she—she's a fighter too! If she wants something—and anyway, she's a woman . . .
just as I am."

That, Blythe reasoned, was the sum of it all.

Nancy is a woman. So am I.
Since the time began women have gone after the things they wanted —their men—scrapping if need be, tooth and toenail! Friendships?
Fair play? Ethics? Fine concepts for the school mottoes, but in real life—!

Blythe felt something elemental stirring within her.

Her dainty chin went up, and through clenched teeth she whispered, "I'll give Nancy Hale the darndest fight she ever heard of!"

News Behind THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON (Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., Reproduction in Whole or in Part Strictly

Washington, Oct. 14.—Professional politicians in the senate and house, many Democrats as well as Republicans, are still grumbling mildly to themselves about the president's fireside chat.

They all seemed to consider it irritating at one point or another
. . . His raising of the 18-19 year old draft matter just before their election (not his) . . . His avoidance of decisive recommendations on man-power . . . But, above all, his timing of the speech to blanket a late afternoon announcement of the loss of three cruisers in the Solomons last August.

To me it seemed the opposite, in fact the soundest political speech of the year. It signified what the most embarrassing vital war matters which the government was going to put off until after election, are to be met straight-forwardly.

But, above and beyond that, it showed this government is swinging away from the defensive and into aggressive action.

Gone was the old tone of caution and warning—caution that we must not expect much military action before next year, warning that we must realize we have a war on.

When you couple this with recent administrative steps, you will find the government is taking the offensive in more than mere speech. His appointment of single-headed controls over the confused governmental economic policies and over rubber has strengthened this change of front, and given it substance.

Not only that, but the new war guide he offered the people carried a significant suggestion of the imminence of aggressive military action, not restricted to a second front, but in a vaster theater.

The conception which the public has of a "second front" comes mainly from Russia, and her immediate necessities. Stalin has been agitating for invasion of the continent to relieve pressure on his armies.

Roosevelt avoided use of the term "second front." He said the military plan contemplates divisions for both China and Russia
"by new offensives against Germany and Japan."

This could mean a heavy concentration against Rommel in Africa, to annihilate him, perhaps a dozen different attacks between Norway and the Mediterranean islands, further stronger advances by MacArthur in the southwest Pacific, the extinction of the last
Jap stronghold in the Aleutians (it is now a question of whether they can get out of there before they are bombed to pieces) and perhaps even invasion of Japan eventually through Russia, if Stalin will open those Siberian bombing fields to us.

An intimation that the president is thinking aggressively now in terms of early action is conveyed by the fact that, in the very next breath, he talked of what may happen when the axis begins to collapse.

It seems to me the president,
no on his trip, but before, reached the decision that the congressional conception of good politics was not very good this time.

While the 18-19 year old draft will not be popular with mothers from a standpoint of self-interest, it will certainly be popular with older persons from the same standpoint. But, regardless of politics, the Army says it wants these younger boys, and certainly older men are needed elsewhere to sustain both military and civilian life.

In the man-power matter also,
the president merely turned down those of his officials who want to handle it the Hitler way, by an arbitrary draft.

Of politics, there was plenty in the speech, true enough. But as it signifies a swing to action, a move to get off the defensive in spirit and movement, and follows many a line critically suggested in this column, I think congress-sional criticism is petty.

Great ado is being raised in some quarters about the anti-poll tax measure now being successfully promoted in congress, but the bill is largely political in nature.

It does not mean Negroes will be automatically allowed to vote in the eight southern states affected. In those states, the primaries are the only important parts of the elections.

Some of the states have laws now, giving political parties the right to fix qualifications of voters in primaries. These laws have been upheld by the Supreme Court.

Educational and other restrictions can still be applied, and may well be expected in some states, in view of the complaint of southern congressmen that they consider the legislation deliberately offensive.

It cannot be passed in the senate in time to affect this election anyway, except in one respect. It will lead northern Negro organizations to believe they have won a victory.

Incidentally, the politics from one southern state say a local Democratic city boss down here is in favor of the bill because he is "tired of paying the poll tax to get all his Negroes in to vote" in every election.

Lee Center Students Set Pace in County-Wide Scrap Drive

The Dixon Evening Telegraph-sponsored scrap drive was rolling along yesterday at a brisk pace, with two rooms of the Lee Center grade school first to reach the 100 per cent goal. Searching farm gullies, attics, garages and store buildings, the students were "all out" for scrap, and brought in enough discarded washing machines, mowers, safes, tools, kettles, pipes, horseshoes, and the like to make a pile of nearly two tons of metal to be sold to the Lee Center school near the nine-ton mark, with additional calls coming in today from persons having more scrap. Part of the school's 73 grade school children are pictured above, smiling their joy over a patriotic task well done. The students, who have scoured their town and surrounding countryside for all manner of waste materials, and stacked it in a heap back of the school, include: Lucille Dale, Eddie Baylor, David Greene, Marie Ikens, Judy Songerth, Fern Thomas, Jerry Traugher, Lois Fisher, Jack Baylor, Frances Bloyd, Jerry Bollinger, Patty Foote, Emily Gregory, Janice Hill, Erlene McNinch, Judy Moore, and Shirley Schnell. George Stadler, Philip Stebbins, Clara Thomas, Robert Wilson, Kathleen Flaherty, Esther Bollman, Marilyn Bollman, Ruth Bonnell, Walter Delhotal, Goldie Greene, Bette Ikens, Melvin McBride, Richard Robinson, Lee Thomas, Cynthia Traugher, Don Wellman, June Fields, and Carol Flaherty. Another photograph, depicting how the school's scrap pile has grown so rapidly, will be found on page 9.

Will Hold Box Social, Oct. 21

An old-fashioned box social, with lots of games and fun for everyone, is being announced by members of the Prairieville Social circle for Wednesday evening at the Palmyra town hall. Plans for the event were discussed at yesterday's meeting of the circle, when Mrs. Fred Fredericks and Mrs. Paul Harms were entertaining at the former's home. Twenty-three members and seven guests were present for a scramble luncheon, with the hostesses furnishing chicken and noodles. Halloween appointments decorated the table. A card shower was planned for Mrs. Bert Robinson, mother of a circle member, who is a patient at Katherine Shaw Bethea hospital. Games, suggested by the hostesses, concluded the afternoon. At their next meeting, which is to take place Nov. 18 at the Prairieville church, the circle members will be doing Christmas sewing for an orphanage. Under the streets of Butte, Mont., there are 2000 miles of mine tunnels, according to estimates. During World War I, not a single American-built airplane flew over the front lines.

P-T. A MEETING
Members of the Gap Grove P-T. A. have changed their meeting place for tomorrow evening from the school to the Palmyra town hall. The program is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

DINNER GUESTS HEAR OF WEDDING PLANS OF MABEL LUKE AND DENTON TENNANT

"Mabel and Denton—Nov. 25th" was the legend found printed on small pink and white cakes at a dinner party given last evening by Miss Mabel Luke. The legend, amplified, means that the party hostess, third daughter of the E. F. William Lukes of Harmon, has chosen Wednesday, Nov. 25, as the day for her marriage to Denton Tennant, only son of the Herbert Tennants of 508 Ottawa avenue. Last evening's announcement party was held at The Coffee House. Pink and white tapers were lighted and placed at either side

ROCHELLE MAN CLAIMS BRIDE AT PARSONAGE

Marriage vows of Miss Marian Wiltse, daughter of Mrs. Emma Wiltse of DeKalb, and Harold Furman, son of Mrs. Jeanette Furman of Rochelle, were solemnized Sunday at the parsonage of the DeKalb Methodist church. The Rev. Allen Billman performed the nuptial service. Mrs. Harold Marshall was her sister's matron of honor, and Mr. Marshall served as best man. The bride wore blue velvet, accented by a corsage of Talisman roses and bronze pompons. Mrs. Marshall was also dressed in blue velvet, with a shoulder bouquet of yellow pompons. A wedding dinner was served at the Marshall home. The bride's cake, topped with pink sweet peas, was the centerpiece on the table. Mrs. Furman attended the Sycamore schools, and was graduated from the Nu Way Beauty school in Aurora. She is employed at St. Mary's hospital. The bridegroom, a graduate of Rochelle high school, is with the Whitcomb Locomotive company in Rochelle. The couple plan to make their home in Rochelle.

Young Mothers Entertain at Guest Meeting

Nearly 50 members and guests attended last evening's Guest Night meeting of the Young Mother's club at the Loveland Community House, where Miss Irene Crotty of the Crotty Hobby museum of Rockford was displaying dolls from her collection, as well as hatpins, souvenir spoons, and buttons from the hobby collections of her sisters. Dolls that were on view included Scarlett O'Hara, an old Frenchman, and dolls of wishbones, clay pipes, and corn cobs. There were also spoons from every state in the Union, an American flag designed of buttons, and a number of handsome hatpins of bygone days. Mrs. R. K. Goldthorpe was welcomed as a new member of the club last evening. Refreshments were served at the close of the lecture and exhibit. The club's next event is to be a Halloween masquerade.

PATRICK J. DEVINE

Patrick J. Devine passed away very suddenly this morning at his farm home near Rockton, the victim of a heart attack. He had been in apparent good health until stricken at his home early today. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Florence Devine and one daughter, Mrs. John Mockus of Rockton; his aged father, James Devine of this city; three brothers, Attorney John P. and Highway Commissioner James Devine of this city and Edward Devine of Chicago; and five sisters: Mrs. John Lahey of this city; Mrs. Harrison May of Rockton; Mrs. Roy V. Monahan of Chicago; and the Misses Anna and Thekla Devine of Dixon.

The author, as a child, accompanied her mother to Mexico on a commission from the Emperor, Franz Joseph of Austria, to collect the personal effects of his brother, Maximilian, and return them to Austria. Mrs. Terry explained. This was the inspiration for further travel in Mexico, and for the book which she later wrote. Sparkling humor is woven around the cold and tragic facts of history.

Maximilian, after a typical early court life, married Princess Charlotte of Belgium, and they ruled Lombardy and Venice for Austria until these provinces were returned to Italy.

Napoleon then offered Maximilian the crown of Mexico, so that France might receive compensation for some Mexican bonds. United States protests of violation of the Monroe Doctrine caused Napoleon to withdraw his supporting army, and Maximilian was captured and executed in 1867, after a three-year regime.

In the meantime, Carlotta had returned to Europe to plead for help for her husband's Mexican empire and had become hopelessly insane. From then until her death in 1927, she lived as an "Empress" in a secluded Belgian castle.

Members of the club's literature and library service committee who sponsor the book reviews are Mrs. Charles F. Johnston, Jr., chairman, Miss Edna Burnham, Mrs. F. L. Blewfield, Mrs. Forrest Trautwein, Mrs. Adolph Eichler, and Mrs. A. E. Marth.

The Classic league, which is having a real tight National league race, was shooting at the records last night.

I don't know if Frank Daschbach's 222-252-214-688 series total bettered any marks, other than the present season league highs, but I do know that the local guys who do any better than that will be mighty few and far between.

However, Al Wolfe of Van Dams outfit, and Andy Tilton, James team, were right on Frank's tail. Al reported a series score of 645 with games of 222-193-230, while Andy had 203-205-230-638.

Other high game scores were turned in by Moerschbacher, 226; R. Hill, 209; G. Finch, 205; Ostrander, 201; LaFever, 220; Bubrick, 204; A. McGraham, 206; Detweiler, 200; Klein, 211; and F. Smith, 215.

STERLING VS. DIXON

The Sterling Township-Dixon game tomorrow night should be a humdinger.

Both squads hit the depths of achievement when they were sadly kicked around by the Rock Falls outfit.

Since then their progress has been very much the same. As neither team could drop any lower, they both started to climb.

Coach Homer Mosgrove's boys came back from their defeat by lugging Hall Township in the conference opener, 12-0. The following week they traveled to Ottawa where they suffered a case of fumbleitis which gave the game to their opponents, 13-7.

Dixon enjoyed a two weeks rest period after Rock Falls humbled them, 25-0. That time was well spent in reorganizing the team, with positions changing hands like money in a crap game.

The results were satisfactory enough despite the fact they were held to a 6-6 tie at Spring Valley last Friday.

The Dukes were clearly the better team that night—and I know all the answers about their not paying off except on touchdowns in which department Hall was just as capable as the local boys.

However, the Dukes have shown marked improvement and with another week of practice in which to improve their running, passing, blocking and tackling, they should be in top form tomorrow.

Add all these things together with the traditional rivalry angle of the game and we come back to my original assertion—the game tomorrow night should be a humdinger.

HALL AT DEKALB

Robert Reihsen, DeKalb mentor, is fast becoming white of head, informants report.

When the season started he was well fixed, or so he thought, with his crack center, Ebbenson, on tap to put strength in the line. Then the veteran middle man came up with a knee injury, and Millard Countryman was rushed in to fill the gap. However, Countryman came out of the Ottawa game with a fractured collarbone and now Reihsen doesn't know where he stands.

According to the latest communiques from DeKalb, either Malen or Bolen, both third-stringers, will try his luck against Spring Valley. How these inexperienced boys will do against N. C. I. C. competition is the question that bothers Reihsen.

After the Dixon game, which made the Hall Township record read, 2 defeats, one tie, Coach Richard Nesti decided some changes were in order. Hence there has been a drastic shakeup in the Hall lineup.

Pace, who has been understudying the regular backfield stars, was named to replace Lester Cattaneo, lost to the team for the rest of the season, at quarterback.

Also making his first appearance in a starting backfield role, will be end Henry Gall. Jack Lewis and Adolph Pahlitz will fill out the secondary.

Don Mini will take Gall's place at end; Turigliatti, regular tackle, will start at center in place of Sebastian; Hoffert will play the other end position; Thompson and Galassi will open at tackles; and Lunn and Pomatto will start as guards.

Most of the emphasis in this week's workouts at Spring Valley, has been placed on formations, timing, plays and pass defense, a department in which the Redmen have been notably weak.

Pabst Blue Ribbon Shatters Classic Marks

Duck Season Opens Today

Chicago, Oct. 15.—(AP)—An aerial bomb exploding at Grass lake started the ducks into the awareness that the 1942 hunting season began in Illinois at 7:05 a. m. (C. W. T.) or sunrise, today.

Along the Illinois waterway, the Mississippi and in the goose shooting paradise of Alexander county (Cairo) the birds heard the hunters' barrage booming at the start of a 70-day season, cut 10 days in the case of geese.

The Illinois conservation department said there were nearly 60,000 mudhens or coots on Grass lake and some 3,000 other ducks, also numerous conservation agents on hand early to prevent itchy trigger fingers from starting the fireworks before sunrise.

Frank C. Bellrose, Jr., game technician of the Illinois natural history survey, reported after his recent, annual census that there were only about 75,000 ducks in the Illinois river valley, compared with 170,000 last year, and that mallards and pintails were noticeably absent.

Most dealers were limiting hunters to two boxes of shotgun shells per hunter. The daily bag limit is 10 for ducks and possession limit is 20.

TULSA U. TAKES ALL 'ROUND LEAD

Ohio State, Nation's No. One Team Is Tops in Total Offense

Chicago, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Ohio State, the nation's No. 1 football team in this week's Associated Press poll, also is the country's offensive leader, but honors for all around balance go to smaller Tulsa University.

Team figures from the American football statistical bureau today showed Tulsa, defending Missouri valley champion, runner up to Ohio State in total offense, first in total defense, second to Columbia in forward passing, first in pass defense and fourth in defense against rushing.

The Golden Hurricanes achieved this record chiefly at the expense of service teams, defeating the Waco Army flying school, 84-0, and Randolph Field, 68-0. But it was much the same against college opposition, trouncing Oklahoma, 23-0.

An indication of their balance is given in the offense figures. They have gained 634 yards by rushing and 618 by passing for an average gain per game of 417.3 yards. Ohio State, which finished the 1929 season as the nation's No. 1 offensive team, has an average of 457.3 yards to show for its first three games this season. Of its total of 1,372 yards gained, 1,016 have been by rushing.

Tulsa has permitted an average of only 46 yards a game in total defense. Manhattan was second at 71, followed by Illinois (76.03), Arizona, last week's leader, (79.7) and Temple (85.3).

Columbia Leads Passing

Against forward passes Tulsa has yielded an average of 15.3 yards a game. Then came Arizona (22.7), Illinois (23.3), Georgia naval pre-flight (26.7) and North Carolina (29.3).

At throwing passes, the Golden Hurricanes were outranked only by Columbia and its ace, Paul Governali, who have averaged 250.3 yards to Tulsa's 206. Third was Georgia with 166, then Georgia naval pre flight (161.3) and Southern Methodist (154.7).

Brown topped Ohio State in average yards gained by rushing with 346 in two games to the Buckeyes 338.7 in three. Behind the leaders were Illinois (327), Dartmouth (298.3) and Arizona (297.). Tops against rushing tactics was Boston College with a minus 8.5 for two games to lead Alabama with plus 21.3, Manhattan (30), Tulsa (30.7) and Syracuse (31).

Punting honors went to the North Carolina naval pre flight, which averaged 41.79 yards a punt, Wyoming followed at 41.20 and then Marquette and Harvard, both with fractions over 40 yards.

Only teams reporting games to date have been mentioned. Vanderbilt, for example, set the pace in total offense, total defense and rushing offense, but figures had not been reported on last week's 7-6 win over Kentucky.

Other total offense leaders were Missouri, 383.8 average, Boston College, 367.5, Illinois 361, Columbia 358.7, Alabama 353.3, Detroit 348 and Dartmouth 347.

Frank Daschbach, Jr., combined with his Pabst Blue Ribbon teammates last night to shatter all the existing team and individual marks in the Classic league.

Daschbach, shooting in the anchor spot, blasted out a 252 in his second game and put with this scores of 222 and 214 for a 688 series total. Urged on by his record-breaking feats, the Pabst Blue Ribbon team, which nevertheless won only two of its three games with McGrahams, scored a high game 1069 and a series mark of 3079.

Each of these records betters anything reported in any of the other Dixon Bowling association leagues, with the exception of the Production Department's (G. R. O. P. loop) team game high, 1087.

This record shooting overshadowed the fact that Harmon, Van Dams and Chauffeurs Local all jumped from second place into a tie for the lead. Each was a three-game winner in its respective matches with Canteen Service, Old Style Lager and Shell Oil.

James and Country Club Beer, formerly tied for first with Old Style and Hill Bros., took two out of three from Myers Royal Blue and Potts Quality Market, respectively, and now share second, one notch off the lead.

The cellar-dwelling Vaile Clothier outfit, which could win only three games prior to last night's competition, pulled the upset of the evening by sweeping its series with league-leading Hill Bros.

Boynnton-Richards and Welch & Brader split their series with the latter team winning two of the games.

PARTICIPATION OF FRESHMEN IN '43 FOOTBALL LIKELY

Proposed Draft of 18-19 Year Olds Makes the Move Probable

Chicago, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The Western Conference, which let down the bars on intercollegiate freshman competition at its spring meeting, may be forced to go a step farther at coming sessions and permit use of freshmen on varsity football and other varsity teams in view of the proposed draft of 18-19 year olds.

That was the opinion of officials today following demands by lowering the draft age limit.

Doug Mills, athletic director at the University of Illinois, said "when the time comes, I am sure the conference will let the bars all the way down for freshmen, particularly if it means keeping the program of physical fitness going."

Unless the government orders otherwise, college football will continue next year "even if our boys of 18 and 19 are drafted," John L. Griffith, commissioner of the conference declared.

"And the best indication that we will be able to play next year," Griffith added, "is the high value our military men place on competitive athletics in general and football in particular."

Quality Not So Bad
Intimating the probable use of freshmen in 1943, Griffith asserted: "But we will have to get along with boys under 18 or some 'old men' 24 years of age."

And even if the quality of the 1943 teams isn't as good, more important, Griffith said, was "the benefits derived by the boys in getting ready for military life."

"The quality may not be so bad at that," he added, pointing out that the current season already has been a surprise. "Few of us thought there would be so many good teams," he said.

Meantime, some officials said they saw little need of altering freshmen rules further this season.

In the spring meeting, the conference waived all rules prohibiting intercollegiate freshman competition and voted to permit freshman teams to play a limited number of games against the freshman teams of other conference schools, service teams or small colleges.

COUNT FLEET POINTS FOR DERBY SANS FUTURITY JINX

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

New York, Oct. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hertz undoubtedly were a bitterly disappointed couple when Count Fleet could do no better than third in the $69,890 The Futurity down the Widener chute at Belmont.

They haven't had anything like him since his pappy, Reigh Count. But the owners Hertz at least have one consolation. Long-striding Count Fleet won't go into the Kentucky Derby early next May saddled with the jinx that trails Futurity winners in the Run for the Roses.

Although the ancient Derby was only 13 years old when J. K. L. Lawrence thought up The Futurity in 1888, and victory in The Futurity is supposed to be a stamp of championship caliber, a colt has yet to come down in front in the big number at Churchill Downs after capturing the biggest of 2-year-old events.

Jinx Gets Flying Start
The jinx started to work with the first running of The Futurity. Jockey Barnes kicked Proctor Knott down in front of the great Salvator in the Futurity, but Proctor Knott ran second to Spokane in the Derby of the following year.

Great steeds have bagged The Futurity, too—Domino, Ballyhoo Bey with the immortal Tod Sloan up, Colin, Pennant, Man o' War, Whirlwind, Jamestown, to name a few, and last, but hardly least, Bimelech.

Carroll Bierman, you will recall, slipped Gallahadion through on the rail to nip Bimelech, the odds-on favorite. Gallahadion opened and closed at 40-to-1. He accomplished precisely nothing thereafter.

Of course, the larger eastern stables paid little or no attention to the Derby until Harry Payne Whitney shipped Regret, the only filly to win it, to the Blue Grass in 1915.

Also until more recent years many fine colts were not eligible for The Futurity, for which a foal is nominated before it is conceived.

Count Fleet Sets Mark

But that doesn't mean that the Futurity jinx in the Derby has not been most pronounced.

It will be the aim of John Marsch's Occupation to be the first to beat it next spring. Because he trimmed Count Fleet in The Futurity and earlier in Chicago and otherwise compiled a sparkling skein, Occupation, a brown son of Bull Dog-Miss Buntin, must be regarded as the juvenile champion.

Yet many horsemen believe Count Fleet will go farther as a 3-year-old.

Then, in The Champagne Stakes over the lightning-fast Belmont regular course, he broke the world 2-year-old record for the mile established by Alsab a year ago by running away and hiding in an amazing 1:34 4-5.

Has More Than Jinx to Beat

There will be others stirring up trouble next season—their 3-year-old year. Don't overlook William E. Boeing's Devil's Thumb, which won five consecutive stakes at Saratoga before going slightly wrong and being set aside for the Derby. Boeing has another, Slide Rule, which although sired by Snark, a sprinter, acts like a router.

The year saw an exceptionally fine 2-year-old lot. Occupation will have vastly more than The Futurity jinx to repulse in the Kentucky Derby of 1943.

Star Swedes to Run Here

New York, Oct. 15.—(AP)—One of these days three fast-stepping Swedes will jump, not out of the weeds, but out of an airplane to give indoor track competition the stimulus it will need to carry on through the coming winter season.

In spite of the difficulty of trans-Atlantic travel Gunder Haegg, Sweden's 1,500 to 5,000 meter record breaker, Arne Andersson, his leading rival, and Erik Lidman, a crack hurdler, are almost certain to race in the United States this winter.

"They're eager to come," Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the amateur athletic union said today. "I just had another radiogram that indicates they still want to run although we couldn't arrange some outdoor meets for them in California."

The problem of getting the visiting athletes to the United States seems fairly simple. Planes are running from Stockholm to London and over the Atlantic. But digging up the kind of competition that will pack Madison Square Garden is a bigger task.

Practically all the "name" athletes who competed last winter are in the armed forces or otherwise unavailable. The most notable exception is miler Gil Dodds, a divinity student and therefore exempt from the draft. Even Greg Rice, the two-mile champ has been classified I-A, despite the triple hernia that makes running a hazardous occupation for him.

However, officials are going ahead with plans for all the major indoor meets this winter in New York, Boston, Philadelphia,

THROUGH WITH DIXON

Editor Telegraph:—We, (my husband and I) were down to Dixon shopping the third of October. After doing our trading and spending a sum of $50.00 in your city, we returned to our car to find a ticket on the windshield, saying that we had parked longer than 90 minutes. My husband took the slip and went to the city hall where he had to pay a fine of $1.00 for parking 30 minutes too long.

We do most of our shopping in Dixon and have for years, but from now on will do it in Rockford. Up there we have received two tickets for parking too long but upon taking the slips to the police station, we did not have to pay a fine as we were out of town shoppers.

We take the Dixon paper right along and have for two years but from now on it will be of no use to us as we do not care to shop there again. Your bargains will mean nothing to us.

If your city is as hard up as all that, maybe we Mt. Morris shoppers can take up a donation for you. You can show this letter to your city board and even publish it in the paper if you care to. Others have said the same thing about your city and they prefer to shop in other towns for this reason, unless there is a change in your laws for out of town shoppers. We would like to have an answer to this letter or see it in print in your paper.

ICC Approves Eastern Road's Reorganization

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has approved a modified reorganization plan for the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company under which it will acquire the Boston and Providence railroad in consideration for around $5,000,000 in securities. The plan must become effective during the 1943 calendar year.

The exact date of effectiveness will be fixed by the reorganization committee in accordance with the time when securities can be delivered.

The reorganization was reconsidered by the ICC after having been disapproved by federal court, which made suggestions for improving the program.

Heinrich Himmler Reported Paying Visit to Il Duce

(By The Associated Press)

Berlin announced Wednesday Heinrich Himmler, chief of Hitler's dread Gestapo, "is in Rome for a private visit as guest of the fascist government", but reports of German-Italian friction, current in neutral European capitals, suggested that it might be more than a social call.

These reports indicated strongly that German suspicion of Italy's attitude toward the United States was a source of trouble.

A DNB dispatch from Rome, broadcast by the Berlin radio, said Himmler "has been received by Il Duce (Mussolini), with whom he had lengthy and cordial conversation."

But the broadcast gave no hint of what Himmler, the man chiefly responsible for bending the occupied territories and even Germany's allies to Hitler's will, may have told the Italian dictator.

Reports were current in Ankara and Istanbul that one demand Germany was about to make was for full control of Italy's Adriatic port of Trieste.

Report from Stockholm

The suggestion that recent Italian-American developments figured in the reported rift between the European axis partners came from the Stockholm correspondent of the National Zeitung of Basel, Switzerland.

He quoted the Stockholm Dagens Nyheter as reporting that the differences were accentuated by Italian permission for Myron C. Taylor's plane to land at Rome recently to Vatican City for conferences with the Pope, and by developments in the treatment of Italians in the United States.

Mentioned specifically was the announcement by U. S. Attorney General Francis Biddle that effective Oct. 19 Italians in the United States no longer would be under restrictions as enemy aliens.

Strong-Arm Backing

The Basel National Zeitung's correspondent in Istanbul reported rumors current in Turkey that the Himmler-Mussolini meeting might be followed soon by another conference of Hitler and Mussolini.

Himmler's presence would add strong-arm backing to whatever demands Germany had to make.

Strong detachments of his Gestapo have been reported in Italy for more than a year making free with high authority in their task of keeping the Italians up to the mark in sharing the military burdens of the axis.

Adding tinder to the situation was the quite obvious failure of Italian occupation forces to throttle anti-axis outbreaks in Italian-patrolled territory—particularly dismembered Yugoslavia.

There patriot forces under General Draja Mihailovic have been reported striking with increasing power at axis communications and supply lines and even fighting it out in pitched battles with large German and Italian detachments.

Official Yugoslav sources in London said both Germans and Italians had increased the size of their forces in Yugoslavia recently, and that the German action was prompted largely by dissatisfaction with Italy's handling of the problem.

Hospital Service May Be Curtailed

St. Louis, Oct. 15—(AP)—Prof. James A. Hamilton of Yale, president-elect of the American Hospital Association, warns American women that the shortage of hospital personnel is becoming so acute that more women may have to give birth to their babies at home.

He also suggested in an interview at the association's war conference that it might become necessary to deny special duty nurses to patients who merely want to keep up with the Joneses.

"The length of the stay in the hospital after childbirth must be cut in most cases, but it won't be cut below the point of safety for mothers, nor for mothers whose home conditions are inadequate."

"Some prospective mothers who ordinarily go to the hospital may even have to have babies at home, but this will be required only in communities where there are adequate doctors to care for home cases and where sufficient nurses are available for regular visiting."

"Special duty, or private nursing, should be restricted to persons who have just undergone surgery, and to critically ill patients."

Charles P. Taft, assistant director of U. S. Defense Health & Welfare Service, told the association the public should be educated to the necessity of limiting the use of hospitals to emergencies and really serious cases.

"We might as well make people conscious that all of the niceties to which they have been accustomed in hospitals are not available until termination of the war emergency."

WLB Refuses Increase in Pay to Ford Workers

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—A 12½ cents an hour pay increase requested by 115,000 Ford Motor Company employees is considered unjustified by the War Labor Board.

While the board planned to explain its position soon, WLB officials who asked not to be quoted by name said the raise could not be justified under the board's principle which allows increases of 15 per cent over wage levels of Jan. 1, 1941, to offset the rise in living costs since that time.

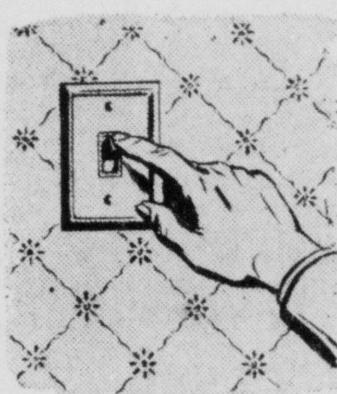

The request, rejected by the board this week, was made by the United Automobile Workers of America (CIO), in negotiating for a new labor contract. The present one expires Oct. 31.

Just turn out lights... don't pull main switch

Pulling main switches needlessly reduces the efficient operation of a home. There are many electric appliances that serve a vital household function without casting a light. Ranges, oil burners, water heaters, refrigerators, clocks, radios—any break in their operation lessens the efficiency of the home.

Make your home livable during blackouts

A blackout, especially a long one, may have a harmful, depressing effect on your family—unless some part of your home is specially prepared for living under blackout conditions.

You may want to select one room as a "refuge room," and black out its windows so that the family can gather in cheerful surroundings. Also, you may want to black out the bathroom window. It's a good idea to make the same preparations for your kitchen, too, in case of a prolonged blackout.

Write out your "blackout schedule"

Don't leave the blacking out of your home to chance. Make a list of all the things that have to be done. Appoint one member of the family to be responsible, with a substitute to serve in his absence.

If you plan to be away from home during the evening, and wish to leave a light burning, be sure to make some arrangement with a neighbor. Remember, even "practice" blackouts may come without warning!

SINCE the United States Army can order blackouts whenever advisable, wise householders already have definite plans for blacking out their homes with the greatest efficiency.

Read your newspapers carefully for blackout regulations issued by Civilian Defense authorities.

Here are some suggestions and reminders that will help you carry out the official regulations in your home.

In the morning Gregor Ziemer, headmaster and dean of the American school in Berlin, Germany for 11 years, will give his address on the subject, "Educating for Democracy."

The program for Friday's session of the Rock River division is as follows:

Japanese Bring Up

Guadalcanal and lost three planes while one United States fighter was lost. That attack apparently was carried out about the time that United States reinforcements were arriving.

Then during the night of October 13-14 the enemy brought up his surface forces of battleships, cruisers and destroyers and bombarded the American positions "heavily."

The bombardment was mentioned by the Navy last night but the fact that the Jap armada contained battleships had not been reported until today.

Shore batteries which answered the fire of the Japanese warships scored three hits on enemy destroyers.

Japanese Get Through
On October 14, the enemy made the air raid on the Guadalcanal airfield and succeeded in getting through without interception by the Army, Navy and Marine Corps fighter planes based there. An attack was made by two separate groups of bombers, each of which had fighter escort, and it was the first group which got through unresisted.

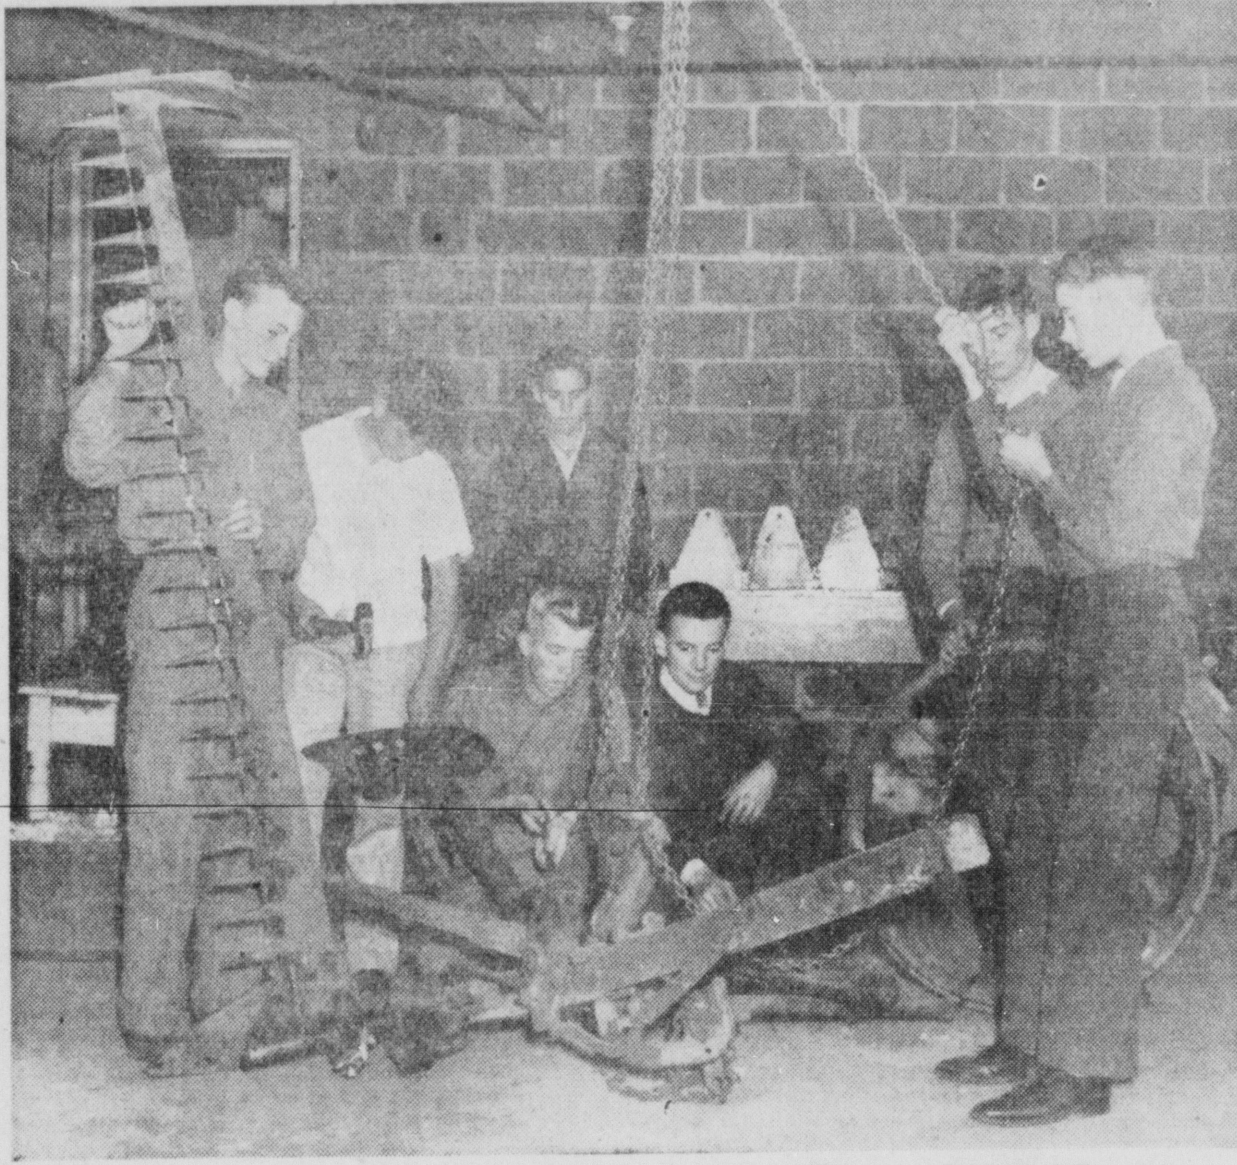

"Our fighters were unable to intercept the first flight, which contained about 25 bombers," the communique said. During the second attack they shot down nine of the 15 bombers in the group and destroyed four fighters. One United States fighter was lost."

The communique then carried the report into the 15th, which was yesterday in Guadalcanal, and disclosed the American aerial counter-attacks on the enemy landing forces.

Stimson reported at his press conference also that Army forces now were in the New Hebrides and Fiji islands on the route between the United States and Australia, as well as at other points where their presence had been disclosed previously.

"Recently Army ground and air units have moved to Guadalcanal to reinforce the Marines who

Lee Center F. F. A. Dismantle Farm Mower for Scrap

—Telegraph Photo and Engraving

Left to right are: Leland Bodmer, Curtis White, and Robert Lindenmeyer, all sophomores; Milburn White, a senior, who is secretary of the F. F. A.; and Wayne Kurz, a freshman. Kneeling are (left to right), Donald Jesse, a junior, and Mr. Finch.

The rest of the 24 F. F. A. members were out on trucks, donated by the Lee County Grain company, of which Bob Hoyle is manager, and Vernon Wasson, a farmer. Gasoline and other expenses were paid for by the chapter. State Patrolman Russell Gentry, who was injured in a highway accident several weeks ago, has been driving the Wasson truck, to add the enthusiastic young scrap "scavengers", who have brought between seven and eight tons of much-needed metals to the scrap pile, back of the school.

Perhaps the biggest single piece collected in the pick-up was a 600-pound safe, from the Robert Untz farm, near West Brooklyn. The farmer's son, Robert, is a freshman and one of the F. F. A. workers. About 1,600 pounds of miscellaneous scrap came from the farm of George King, whose daughter, June, is a junior and an honor student.

Contributions of 1,000 pounds or more each were collected from the farms of "Buck" Hicks, whose son, La Verne, is a freshman F. F. A. member; Mrs. Blackburn of Shaw Station, whose son, Robert, is also a member of the chapter; and Albert Jeanblanc, whose son, Clarence, is a junior F. F. A. student.

The grade school students have picked up an average of 41 pounds of iron, two pounds of rubber, and 1½ pounds of aluminum, per student. Their scrap heap is labeled with a huge sign, reading "Victory Scrap Pile."

seized important positions in the Solomons and are tenaciously holding them against vigorous Japanese counter attacks," the war secretary said.

"The Army and Navy forces in this area are fighting in the closest possible cooperation under the unified command of the Navy," he added.

Stimson did not disclose when the Army forces reached Guadalcanal, or their strength.

He said their numbers were "substantial" and that they were under command of Major General Millard F. Harmon, of the air forces.

"Close Comradeship" General Harmon, the secretary

said, has his headquarters in New Zealand but has spent most of his time at his advance base in New Caledonia.

In a statement outlining Army operations on the scattered war fronts, Stimson said a Marine commander on Guadalcanal had just reported an instance of "close comradeship" between the Army and Marine fighters.

This commander, the secretary said, reported that members of an Army infantry unit in New Caledonia stripped themselves of cigarettes, candies and other luxuries which they dispatched to a Marine regiment holding advance positions on Guadalcanal.

"In return the Marines sent back captured Japanese souvenirs and trophies," Stimson said.

In New Guinea, Stimson said, Army fliers for months have been taking a heavy toll of Japanese aircraft and shipping and rendering "splendid support" to the Australians in the advance over the Owen Stanley range.

Struggle Growing
The grim struggle for control of the Solomons was rising in crescendo again today with newly reinforced Japanese troops apparently determined to recapture the prized Guadalcanal airfield.

Failing to bomb the Marine-held airbase in weeks of costly aerial attacks, the enemy turned on their warships, the Navy reported last night, and bombarded the landing field and shore installations from the sea.

In spite of an American cruiser-destroyer force recently assigned the task of fighting off seaborne reinforcements on the strategic island, the Japanese, the Navy said, succeeded in landing additional troops on Guadalcanal yesterday, (Thursday in the Solomons).

Covered by warships, Japanese transports slipped to the north coast where the enemy troops are concentrated and in the early morning landed reinforcements and presumably artillery which the invaders have lacked.

Major Battle Seen Near
The Navy's communique did not disclose whether the enemy fleet was engaged by the American naval force which only last Sunday routed a similar landing attempt after smashing eight Japanese vessels. The enemy's success in its latest venture, however, led naval circles to believe that a major battle for the airfield was imminent.

In New Guinea, west of the Solomons, the struggle between Japanese and Australian troops also was mounting in intensity. After approaching to 32 miles from the allied base at Port Moresby, weakened supply lines forced the invaders to withdraw toward their northern shore base. Pursuing Australians contacted the enemy last Saturday after pushing through the gap in the towering Owen Stanley mountains.

Allied Advance Slowed
The allied advance since then has slowed considerably as the Japanese supply line was strengthened and the Australians weakened by distance. As a result, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Australian headquarters announced last night, the fighting has become heavier.

Meanwhile, U. S. naval quarters regarded recent Japanese naval losses as severely sapping the enemy's supply strength in the Pacific. Japanese ship casualties announced in the last three days totaled 11 vessels sunk, two probably sunk and five damaged.

This toll of shipping coupled with heavy plane losses, naval observers said, may cause the Japanese to drive desperately for a quick decision on Guadalcanal in an effort to regain control of the Solomons.

The numerical strength of the Marines which held and even expanded their positions on Guadalcanal since their capture of the airfield more than two months ago, has not been revealed. Nor has it been disclosed how much the American forces have been strengthened by additional troops.

Reds Repel Attacks

Part of two German battalions. The heaviest fighting apparently still raged on the German left flank, above the city, where Marshal Semeon Timoshenko has been slowly driving a series of wedges into the Nazi protective barrier.

About 300 nazis were killed in night fighting in that sector, Russian headquarters said, and Soviet guardsmen routed two German infantry companies attempting to regain lost ground.

Little change was noted on the two major Caucasus fronts, along the Black sea coast below Novorossiysk and in the Mzodsk sector 40-odd miles north of the Grozny oil fields.

Other European war developments:

Second front—DNB, the official German news agency, reported an increasing series of British Commando raids along the Nazi-occupied French coast in September and declared:

"It can be deduced that the British command intends to give way to the Soviet demand for a second front and to make Normandy the scene of such an attack."

DNB said the raids were carried out "on a larger scale," striking at several points, and asserted they were preparing for "a British landing on the coast of Normandy."

Aerial Warfare—Hard-fighting defenders of Malta, key British stronghold in the Mediterranean, were officially credited with shooting down 23 more axis planes over the island yesterday, making a four-day toll of at least 81.

Five RAF Spitfires were acknowledged lost.

The intensity of the attack on Malta suggested that the axis was moving heavy reinforcements across the Mediterranean to North Africa. Coincidentally, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, who recently saw Hitler in Berlin, was reported to have returned to his post on the Egyptian front.

United States and allied bombers have been repeatedly attacking the axis supply port of Tobruk in the past few days, indicating that every attempt was being made to prevent a new influx of troops and supplies for Rommel's long-stalled armies.

Balkans. And Admiral Raeder's submarine flotillas are making their greatest effort of the moment in the waters off west Africa and the Cape of Good Hope. Berlin and London are agreed on this last. Hitler is desperate to cut those lifelines to West Africa and around the cape to North Africa.

A new factor sharpens the Nazi anxieties. "The Yanks are coming" is in effect the refrain of a stream of radio outpourings from Berlin. "The belief is voiced that American troops will play a very important part in the coming developments," said the Berlin station last night. One day a military communique reports new concentrations of General Montgomery's British Eighth army deep in Egypt, below the Qattara Depression and speculates, in a vein reassuring to the home folks, as to its significance. Again the Nazi radio reports allied movements menacing to French West Africa with the scarcity veiled threat that the French had better stand firm there, or else. Yesterday it was a story of a British-American concentration in Gambia, the British territory nearest Dakar, the pivotal point of the whole West African area. With this was spread a report, admittedly unconfirmed, of an allied convoy approaching Dakar. While it would be naive to take Berlin's radio emissions at face value, there is a strong impression here that the German command faces, without any taste for it, the prospect of warfare spreading from one coast of Africa to the other, a battlefield more vast even than that of Russia.

MUSCULAR RHEUMATIC PAIN
For Quick Relief—MUSTEROLE
RUB ON—Better Than Old-Fashioned Mustard Plaster

Fair Enough by WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Oct. 15.—Poor old Thurman Arnold has been slapped down again in his pathetic effort to bring the new deal party's corrupt and anti-public political subsidiary, the union racket, under some degree of governmental control under existing laws. This happened in Chicago where Judge John P. Barnes of the U. S. District Court threw out Thurman's case against Jimmy Petrillo and the American Federation of Musicians under the precedent of the co-called carpenters' case in which Justice Frankfurter, in the majority opinion, held that a union could do just about anything for its own interest in a labor dispute.

But up in Syracuse Thurman won a decision which might result in the jailing of nobody knows how many dirty parasites who for years have been extorting money all over the place from workers on government projects.

The decision in the Petrillo case was just what you might have expected. In fact, these dispatches said on Aug. 3 any action against Petrillo and his union would fail "because he is fully protected by the laws, the policies and the decisions of the new deal." Jimmy had forbidden his subjects to make recordings for use on the radio and in juke boxes and Elmer Davis and Mr. Fly, of the Federal Communications Commission, took on something awful about it.

Well, there is no need to go into the thing. We don't know whether congress actually did intend to grant to unions the right to commit offenses against the rights and property of innocent individuals and firms and to operate stickups on the highways, but we do know that the Supreme Court has held this to be so and that will be the law of our land until congress defies the new deal party and enacts corrective legislation in spite of White House opposition. To the credit of the lower house it must be said again that it has passed two bills, but the both of them were smothered in committee in the senate to oblige the White House and thus, of course, to favor the new deal party's ruthless, anti-public and fabulously rich political subsidiary.

In the Syracuse case Tom Clark, one of Thurman's assistants, got indictments against four low-grade new deal union racketeers of the outfit conducted by William E. Maloney of Chicago and Joe Fay, the dangerous thug who runs with the Frank Hague chapter of the new deal party in New Jersey, and known as the International Union of Operating Engineers.

The defendants seem to have crossed up Thurman and Clark, however, by pleading guilty, whereupon they were fined $10,000 each which, of course, is just peanuts to men in these rackets. Their racket was the "permit card" whereby men are forced to pay unions all over the country for the privilege of working on public jobs but are denied membership in the union for one reason or another.

Having won their case without a contest, Thurman and Clark apparently can't take it up to the Supreme Court for final decision, but for the time being they can have a field day because this stickup has been common. However, the next set of defendants might decide to make a struggle and, on appeal, the Supreme Court might again decide against the people and in favor of the privileged racketeers of the party's subsidiary.

Of course, it is just as bad when a union extorts the money and does give the worker a nominal membership as a condition of permission to work on a job which lasts only a few weeks or months. After that his union membership is meaningless and is allowed to lapse. Or when he is admitted to the union and allowed to work only until his initiation fee is paid and then fired to make room for a new sucker with fresh money for the treasury and, incidentally, for the political funds of the new deal party.

The Syracuse mobsters may have been told that they were out of line and couldn't win on appeal, even if they did fight the case, because they made a dumb mistake in refusing to let the suckers have nominal membership. Thurman and Clark might win all over the place in similar prosecutions for this reason. But the grafters might remedy that error in future cases by issuing such nominal membership. That might put them in the clear.

You have to read a lot of law and opinions and debates to get a surefooted understanding of the Petrillo case and nobody can explain it to you in a few words. That Frankfurter decision in the carpenters' case, which governed Judge Barnes in Chicago, is a devious document which may not give you a clear understanding of his thoughts, but certainly leaves you in no doubt that unions have a right to do things to innocent people that no other person or group would be allowed to do. And that will be the law until

War Trend in Our Favor, Says Capt. Edw. Rickenbacker

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—Captain, E. V. Rickenbacker reported today after a survey trip to the European theater air fighting front that "the trend is entirely in our favor."

Captain Rickenbacker, air ace of the first World War, expressed belief that "the European theater will remain an air theater until we have secured superiority over the German air force and paralyzed congress, particularly the senate, decides to wreat back the government of this country from the sub-government of the party's subsidiary."

the production capacity of the German aircraft industry."

"There is no question that we will win this war," he said. "The only question is how soon."

Rickenbacker's report to the War Department was made public by Secretary Stimson with the explanation that Rickenbacker was sent to England to survey Army air force personnel and equipment under actual combat conditions and in comparison with British and German planes and personnel.

Will Suffer Losses
Rickenbacker estimated that the total German air force "does not exceed 4,700 operational combat planes of every type, a very small percentage of these being bombers."

"It would be a mistake, however, to draw the conclusion that German air power is on the decrease," he continued, and explained:

"While we may hope that British and American bombers have crippled German aircraft production and maintenance in Germany and France, the case may well be that the Germans are working feverishly on new design planes to offset the aerial superiority which, at the present writing, is definitely on the allies side."

"We are bound to suffer losses, maybe even great losses, before the conquest of Germany is completed."

Here's Why Uncle Sam Wants You to Have Fats In Your Diet Daily

The "vitamin-rich fats, peanut butter and similar spreads" appear on Uncle Sam's official "Eat Nutritional Food" chart as among the good-for-you's you should eat every day. Featuring far more members than might appear at first glance, the fat family ranges from the salad oil in your dressing to the creamy rim that frames your favorite cut of meat. Other fats include butter, lard, margarine, peanut, corn and olive oils.

Fats have a fundamental part to play in keeping you well. They act as carriers for vitamins and protect the protein supply. Fats must be present or the body cannot fully utilize the vitamins and proteins it takes in. Here's a fact few realize: You can eat vast amounts of vitamin foods and still suffer from deficiencies unless fats are present to distribute the vitamins throughout the body and put them to work! Some fats feature vitamins of their own, like the modern vitaminized margarine that contains 9,000 U.S.P. units of Vitamin "A" per pound, equal that of the year-round average of butter—a thrifter spread for bread. Fat is the fuel that stocks the engine, an energy food that's counted in calories, or heat units, and it's just as much a cornerstone of the body's chemistry as the other food essentials.

Save fats now for making munitons by clarifying them and taking them to your dealer. (Sieve them through a fine strainer or cheese cloth and pour into a coffee can.) Conserve them by "using over," thus conserving fat supplies. Bits of bacon and ham fat flavor greens or season casseroles combined with a covering of crumbs. Fats for deep-frying can be used several times if strained and stored in a cool place.

Use fats thoughtfully in these thrifty, flavorful recipes:
Bran Peanut Butter Cookies
(Uses Sugar But Makes 70!)

- 1 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup honey
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 cup peanut butter
- 1 cup bran cereal
- 3 1/2 cups flour
- 1/2 tsp. soda
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Blend shortening, sugar, honey, eggs and peanut butter; mix well. Add bran cereal. Sift dry ingredients; add to first mixture. Add vanilla. Form into small balls and place on cookie sheet. Press down with fork tines. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) for 10 mins. Makes 70 cookies (2 1/2 in.) in diameter.

Salted Brazil Nut Chips
First blanch the shelled nuts by covering them with 1 quart of water and 1 1/2 tps. baking soda. Simmer 2 minutes. Remove skins while warm. Slice lengthwise, as thinly as possible. Arrange in shallow baking pan, adding 2 tsp. vitaminized margarine for every pound of nuts. Sprinkle well with salt. Toast in moderate oven (350° F.) stirring occasionally until light brown—20 to 30 minutes.

Apple Fritters
1 1/2 cups flour
2 tps. all-phosphate baking powder
2 tps. sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
2-3 cup milk
1 egg, well beaten
2 medium-sized cooking apples

Mix and sift dry ingredients, add milk gradually, and egg. Stir apples, cored, pared and sliced, into batter. Fry in deep mazola at a temperature hot enough to brown an inch cube of bread in one minute. Dip by spoonfuls into mazola. Fritters should be delicately browned in three to five min. Drain on paper. Serve hot. 4 servings.

THREE FINE SPREADS
FOR A SANDWICH: Cream 2 tps. chopped chives with 1/4 cup vitaminized margarine. Spread lightly on thin brown bread.

TO GARNISH FISH: Cream 2 tps. Florida grapefruit juice with 4 tps. vitaminized margarine. Serve with broiled fish.

TO PERK UP POTATOES: Cream 2 tps. finely chopped parsley with 1/4 cup vitaminized margarine. Use to top peeled boiled potatoes.

Basic French Dressing
1/4 tsp. salt
1-8 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. dry mustard
1/4 tsp. paprika
1 tsp. sugar
1/4 cup mazola
1/4 cup vinegar

Measure all ingredients into mixing bowl or glass jar. Beat with rotary beater or shake to mix thoroughly. Shake or beat just before serving. Makes 1 cup.

Eggs au Gratin
6 eggs
2-3 cup real mayonnaise
1/4 tsp. salt
1-8 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup milk
1 cup grated American cheese
Combine real mayonnaise and seasonings in small saucepan. Gradually add milk, stirring after each addition until smooth. Add cheese, cook over low heat about 5 mins, or until cheese is melted and mixture is thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Pour 1/2 of sauce into greased shallow baking dish. Drop eggs, one at a time, into sauce and cover with remaining sauce. Place in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 20 mins. or until eggs are set. Serves 6.

Clothing Future Brighter Home Economist States

Despite government restrictions on the clothing industry, the fashion future will continue to look bright, it is predicted by Miss Mary Whitlock, assistant professor of home economics, University of Illinois college of agriculture. She based her optimistic outlook on faith in the ingenuity of American designers and manufacturers and upon the adaptability of consumers. An open mind toward the new innovations is being asked.

"Just as long as our manufacturers are able to supply yarn and fabrics for military needs and a percentage of civilian needs, we will have interesting clothing, in interesting if limited color range." The government restrictions only added momentum to a change in silhouette which had already begun, the clothing expert explained. Rating high in feminine favor at the present time are the plain tailored suit, the correspondingly comfortable, reserved street and business dress and the efficient work garment.

Miss Whitlock feels that with equal ease women will come to accept the simple lounging robe, short house coat, ankle length formal and dinner dress. Color fastness may be a problem most aggravating to the economy-minded women, but even in this a certain amount of optimism may be seen. Already steps have been taken to set some base for color fastness, even though the standards achieved temporarily may not be as high as formerly. The few colors which are current each year are so lovely that women will cease to look for the hue not displayed, Miss Whitlock believes.

As for shortages of certain materials, these too will not be too noticeable. Cottons will be interesting even if the fine cottons from the long staple fibers are not to be had. Satisfactory mixtures of wool and other fibers or new and reclaimed wool and even some imported wool will fill in the depleted wool supply. Some nylon thread will probably still be used in combination with rayon or cotton for hose, while some silk hose and silk underwear, previously made up, will be shown.

In order that the merchandise on the market may serve the needs of the public to the best advantage, women will want to buy only the clothing they actually need and buy it as carefully as possible, obtaining the best quality available for their particular need, Miss Whitlock warned.

Monday Dixon Day in Marine Corps Drive for Youths

Next Monday will be "Dixon Day" in the Marine Corps campaign to recruit a detachment of Marines to represent this area on the far flung battlefields of the world. Two recruiting sergeants will be stationed at the post office building in Dixon from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

The sergeants, Edmund J. Meier, Jr., and Henry Homola, will arrange for complete physical examinations for all applicants so that it will not be necessary for anyone to go to Chicago to effect his enlistment. The detachment will leave for the training base at San Diego, Calif., Oct. 28 to undergo basic instruction as a unit.

A gala program and colorful parade are being planned for the final days of the campaign. The highest Marine Corps officers in the middle west will be on hand for the festivities, including Lieut. Col. Chester L. Fordney, head of Marine recruiting in the 13 central states.

Those who do not apply in Dixon Monday can do so daily from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. at the post office building in Rockford. The Rockford office also will be open from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. on Sundays.

The entire detachment will leave for San Diego directly from Rockford.

Eligible for enlistment are those 17 to 36 (inclusive) years of age. Those in doubt as to their ability to hurdle the physical examination should not hesitate to be checked by the Marine medical examiner.

"Fall Preparation for 1943 Victory Garden"

The gardeners planning a "Victory Garden for 1943" should begin preparations now for their project next year.

Already indications point to a shortage of seeds and gardening tools and these purchases should be made at the earliest possible date. However, do not buy anything you will not actually need.

Experts have found that building up the soil in the fall, adding plant food and humus will fertilize it so that plantings may be made two to three weeks earlier than in ground that has not been conditioned. Three things can be accomplished at this time of year—spreading one to four inches of humus over the soil, working in all the complete plant food that is available and forking or plowing it at least 6 inches deep—spading 8 to 10 inches is even better. A successful vegetable garden needs 7 to 10 inches of good top soil.

The resourceful gardener will have a definite plan recorded on paper accounting for every foot of available space and then he will select his choice of vegetables to be grown. This selection is a personal matter and will be governed by the tastes of his family and the amount of space to be utilized.

The amateur gardener is cautioned not to undertake cultivating too large an area, but just the amount of ground that he can care for well, as a small piece of ground that is carefully cultivated will net larger returns than a more sizeable one that has been neglected.

The warning signal has already been sounded of the impending shortage of canned goods available for civilian consumption, so that this year's gardener should arrange to have as large a garden as he can handle, so as not only to care for the summer needs of the family, but with a surplus production to be canned.

"The Victory Garden of 1943" has passed out of the category of a hobby into a "patriotic must."

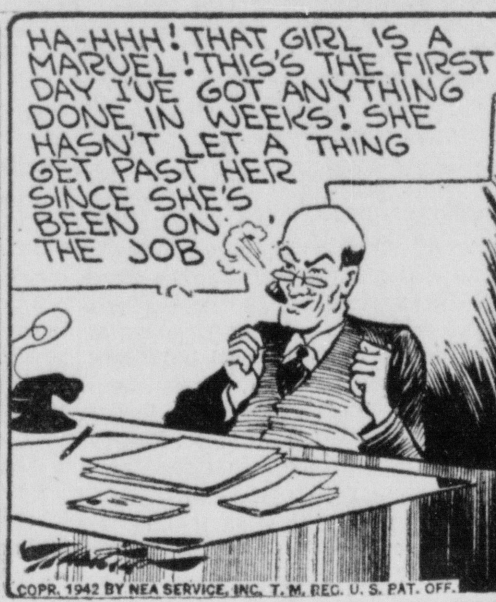

SPEED LIMITED IN ASSEMBLY PARK

Numerous complaints have been received at the office of Sheriff Gilbert Finch of speeding on the drives in Assembly park, endangering the lives of children and adults. Assembly park is private property and a speed limit of 20 miles an hour has been set within the area, and all violators will be arrested and fined for failure to conform to the regulation.

Farm WAR NEWS

County Farm Machinery Rationing Committee—The rationing committee personal has been selected by the county USDA War board and is ready to function. Dale Rosenkrans is automatically chairman of the rationing committee because of his position as AAA farm program. Other members of the committee are Harry Slaybaugh, Amboy, and Robert Shippert of Dixon. Alternate members are George A. King, Amboy and Clair Baker of Dixon. A change in the regulations saves farmers the necessity of making certifications to dealers on small items. The change allows farmers to buy farm machinery in Group B without certification to the dealer if the amount of purchase is $25.00 or less. Farmers can contact dealers or the committee to check exact machinery classifications.

Lee county school cars will get preferred mileage under gasoline rationing regulation providing they are carrying four or more persons according to an announcement by OPA.

Starting Oct. 5, farmers and workers are requested to get rationing certificates in order to obtain heavy duty rubber footwear.

More Scrap—Let's make collecting scrap a daily chore for the duration on all American farms. It has been estimated that there is enough iron and steel on the farms alone, if used with other materials, to make twice as many battleships as there are in the world today; or enough 2,000 bombs to drop three per minute from big bombers incessantly for more than three years. One old disc will provide steel scrap needed for 210 semi-automatic light carbines. One old plow will help make one hundred 75 mm. armor-piercing projectiles. One old shovel will help make four hand grenades. There is enough scrap in an old flatiron to make 2 steel helmets, or 30 hand grenades. A discarded farm tractor contains enough to make 580 machine guns.

A lawn mower contains enough scrap to make 6 three-inch shells. One used old tire will help make 12 gas masks. It appears that our farmers are in a position to do their part in keeping our fighters supplied with both food and fighting equipment. These fighting forces are insuring the future freedom of American farmers. Let's keep our farm scrap piles growing.

Soil Building for 1943—Formerly known as soil building practices, production practices for 1943 have been designed to increase or sustain production during the war. Production practices also include those that will bring farms through the heavy production period of the war with the least possible loss in fertility or damage from erosion. Full credit will be given to a farmer who applies phosphate to new seedlings of grass or legume crops, even though accompanied by nurse crops of small grain for harvest. This does not apply where wheat is the nurse crop.

Eating With Uncle Sam—The Army is a huge mixing bowl; never more so than at the table. The boy who has been brought up on pasteurized milk and fresh vegetables out of season may sit next to the boy who was raised on fat back and turnip greens. The Army has to please the palates of a million and a half men from all parts of the country and all walks of life. However, certain food items are popular from Maine to Texas. Pie is a favorite. Apple first, then cherry and peach. Pies are made in sheets and cuts in squares. The boys insist pie with points are best. Steak is popular. All like bacon and eggs. Doughnuts disappear. More meat and bread is eaten than any other food. Coffee is the favorite drink. Ice tea a close second in summer. And beans. The 1942 soldier boy is the first to receive a balanced diet. Uncle Sam pays 48 cents a day for an individual ration. In World War I, the cost was 26 cents.

1,000 STUDENTS SOUGHT
State College, Pa. — (AP) — Wanted: 1,000 sky-gazers. This was the request of Hans H. Neuberger, assistant professor of meteorology at the Pennsylvania State College, who is planning to use the students to estimate the shade of the sky blue.

He expects to find out whether the eyes of the average untrained person can be used as a measuring stick in this type of meteorological studies. The aerologist explained if the large majority of untrained students can agree on the shade of sky blue during simultaneous observations, the usefulness of color estimations would be established.

ON THE BANDWAGON
Gary, Ind. — (AP) — Once the bandwagon for a dance orchestra, a bus of ancient vintage that has stood four years on a used-car lot is now a victory chariot.

Four women and six employees at the huge Kingsbury ordnance plant saved, begged and borrowed $686 for the "victory cooperative special," as they dubbed it. Its owners estimate that 45 war workers a day may be transported to and from the ordnance plant in their "special."
